

Meredith Holt, Scholarship Recipient 2010

The Caitlin Brondolo Charitable Foundation awarded The 1st Annual Caitlin Brondolo Golf Scholarship on Monday, July 26, 2010. The scholarship, in the amount of $2,500 was established to honor Caitlin's memory. Caitlin had a passion for golf since the age of 8, and played in many area tournaments. She had dreams of playing collegiate golf and going on to the LPGA. Caitlin lost her life to carbon monoxide poisoning in May of 2009, at the age of twelve.

The board of directors were excited to receive applications from all around the country after posting the application on the foundation website www.caitlinfoundation.org and on www.scholarships.com. Criteria for the scholarship includes a GPA of 3.5 or higher, acceptance to an accredited college, and plans to play collegiate golf along with past High School golf experience.

Jill, Chris, and Cassie Brondolo called Meredith Holt, to announce that she was the recipient of this year's golf scholarship. "After our successful golf tournament, we are pleased to be able to use part of the proceeds to help this young girl pursue her dreams" said Chris Brondolo.

Meredith is from Indiana, has been accepted to Indiana Purdue Fort Wayne University, where she plans to play collegiate golf. She played high school golf for 4 years, and participates in many extra curricular activities. Jill Brondolo, stated: "There were many similar qualities in all the young women that applied". "Meredith stood out to us due to her obvious passion for life, golf, and academics"

The Foundation's mission of spreading awareness and prevention of carbon monoxide poisoning is brought to fruition through projects such as scholarships, and community education. To find out more about Caitlin's life and events of the foundation, please visit the website at www.caitlinfoundation.org
